Handwritten musical score on ten staves. The notation is a form of musical shorthand, possibly a simplified staff notation or a specific dialect of musical notation. It consists of notes, rests, and bar lines. The notes are often small circles or dots, and the rests are indicated by horizontal lines or spaces. The bar lines are vertical lines that divide the staves into measures. The overall appearance is that of a personal or working manuscript, with some ink bleed-through from the reverse side visible.

Handwritten notes in a cursive script, likely a ledger or account book. The text is arranged in columns and rows, with some entries appearing to be dates or numerical values. The handwriting is somewhat faded and difficult to decipher.

Handwritten musical notation on a single page of a manuscript. The notation is written in dark ink on aged, slightly discolored paper. It consists of approximately 10 staves of music, each containing a series of notes, rests, and other musical symbols. The handwriting is cursive and somewhat slanted. The page is framed by a simple border, and the overall appearance is that of an old, handwritten musical score.
